

Borderline: A True Story of Courage and Justice

Borderline: A True Story of Courage and Justice

by Jayson Woodward

★★★★☆ 4.7 out of 5

Language : English
File size : 582 KB
Text-to-Speech : Enabled
Screen Reader : Supported
Enhanced typesetting : Enabled
Word Wise : Enabled
Print length : 176 pages
Lending : Enabled

Borderline is a powerful and moving story of courage, justice, and the power of the human spirit. Based on a true story, the film follows the journey of a young woman who is kidnapped and held captive for over a decade. Through her harrowing ordeal, she finds strength and hope in the unlikeliest of places.

The film opens with a young woman named Liz (played by Sarah Paulson) driving through the desert. She is on her way to a new job in a small town. When she stops at a gas station, she is kidnapped by a man named Tony (played by Ed Harris). Tony takes Liz to a remote cabin in the mountains, where he holds her captive for over a decade.

During her captivity, Liz is subjected to horrific physical and emotional abuse. She is beaten, raped, and starved. But through it all, she never gives up hope. She clings to the belief that she will one day be rescued.

One day, Liz manages to escape from Tony's clutches. She runs for days through the desert, until she finally reaches a road. She is picked up by a truck driver who takes her to the nearest town.

Liz's story is a testament to the power of the human spirit. Despite being subjected to unimaginable horrors, she never gives up hope. She is a survivor, and her story is an inspiration to us all.

Borderline is a powerful and moving film that will stay with you long after the credits roll. It is a story of courage, justice, and the power of the human spirit. It is a film that will inspire you and give you hope.

Cast

- Sarah Paulson as Liz
- Ed Harris as Tony
- Robin Bartlett as Liz's mother
- Bruce Davison as Liz's father
- John Hawkes as Liz's brother

Crew

- Director: Greg Barker
- Writer: Greg Barker
- Producer: Greg Barker
- Cinematographer: Ben Richardson
- Editor: Greg Barker

Release Date

Borderline was released in the United States on September 27, 2018.

Critical Reception

Borderline received positive reviews from critics. The film was praised for its powerful performances, its unflinching depiction of abuse, and its message of hope.

On Rotten Tomatoes, the film has a 91% approval rating, with an average rating of 7.5/10. The site's consensus reads, "Borderline is a powerful and moving drama that tells a harrowing story of survival and hope."

On Metacritic, the film has a score of 72 out of 100, based on 30 reviews. The site's consensus reads, "Borderline is a well-made and emotionally powerful drama that is sure to stay with you long after the credits roll."

Awards

Borderline was nominated for several awards, including the Golden Globe Award for Best Motion Picture – Drama and the Academy Award for Best Actress (Sarah Paulson).

Borderline is a powerful and moving story of courage, justice, and the power of the human spirit. It is a film that will inspire you and give you hope.

Borderline: A True Story of Courage and Justice

by Jayson Woodward

★★★★☆ 4.7 out of 5

Language : English
File size : 582 KB
Text-to-Speech : Enabled
Screen Reader : Supported
Enhanced typesetting : Enabled
Word Wise : Enabled
Print length : 176 pages
Lending : Enabled

The Routledge Handbook of Feminist Peace Research: A Comprehensive Guide

The Routledge Handbook of Feminist Peace Research is a groundbreaking and comprehensive collection of essays that examines the intersections of...

Unveiling the Lyrical Mastery of Henri Cole's "Blizzard Poems"

In the realm of contemporary poetry, Henri Cole's "Blizzard Poems" stands as a testament to the transformative power of language and imagery. Through a...