Materials You'll Need

- 1 sheet of 7-count plastic canvas
- Worsted weight yarn in two contrasting colors (approximately 20 yards of each)
- Plastic yarn needle
- Scissors
- Needle and thread (for sewing the cover together)

Step-by-Step Instructions

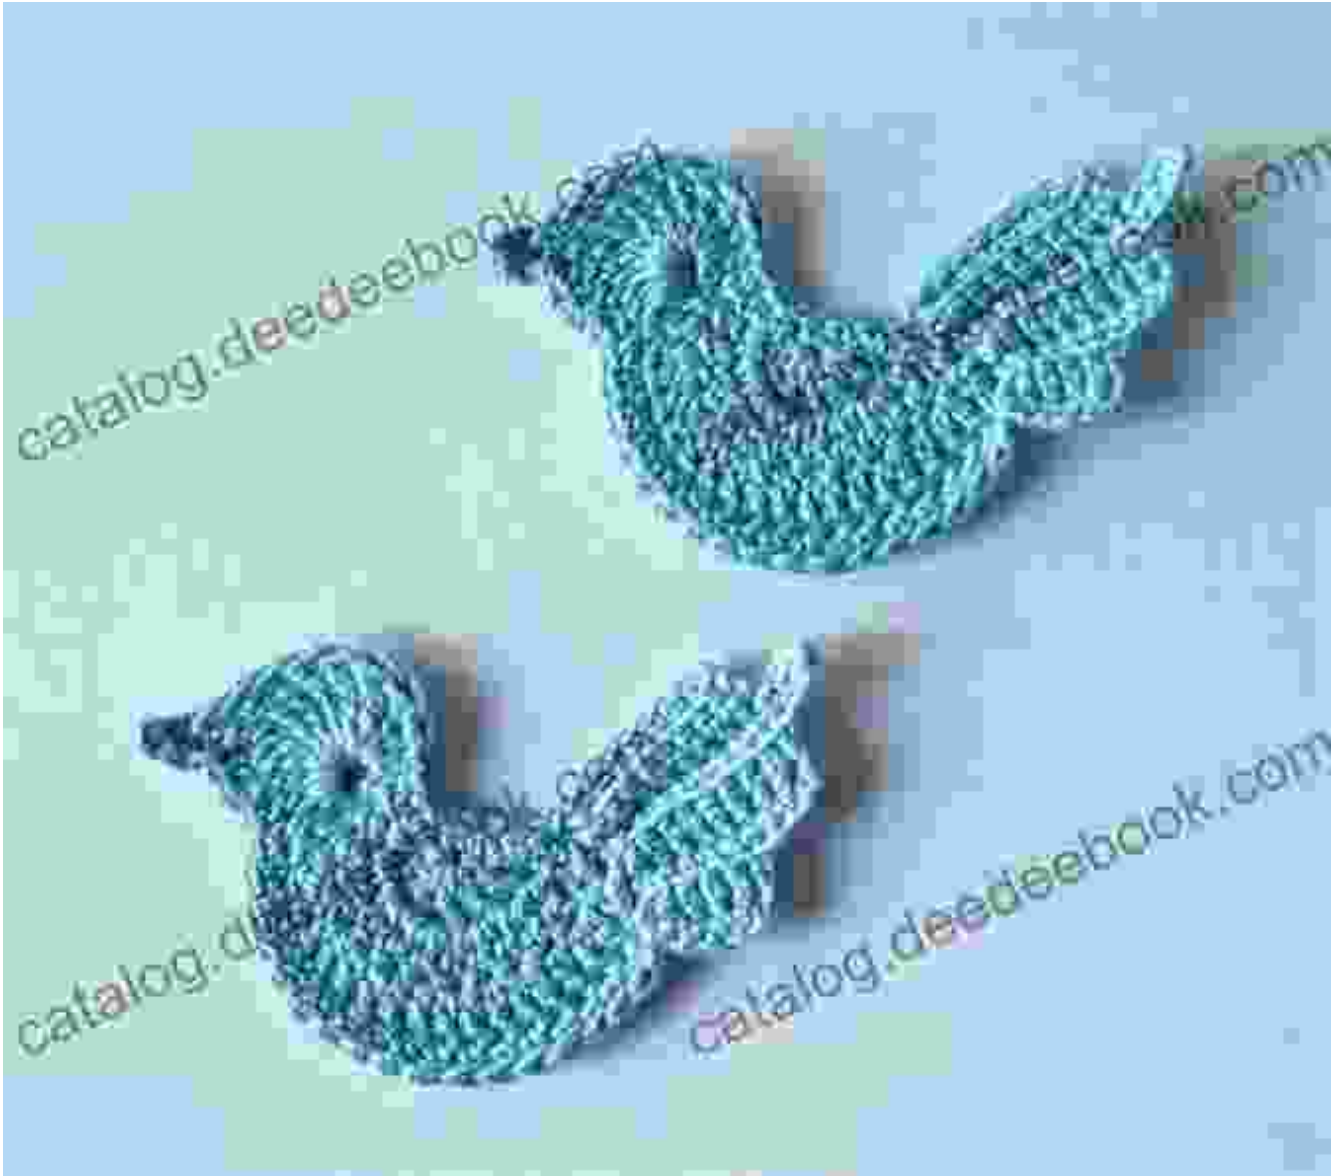

Part 1: Creating the Front and Back Panels

1. Cut a 6x10 rectangle from the plastic canvas.
2. Starting in the center of one long edge, single crochet around the entire rectangle, working evenly into each hole.
3. Repeat Step 2 for the other long edge.
4. Single crochet around the remaining two short edges, working two stitches into each corner hole.
5. Repeat Steps 1-4 to create the second panel.

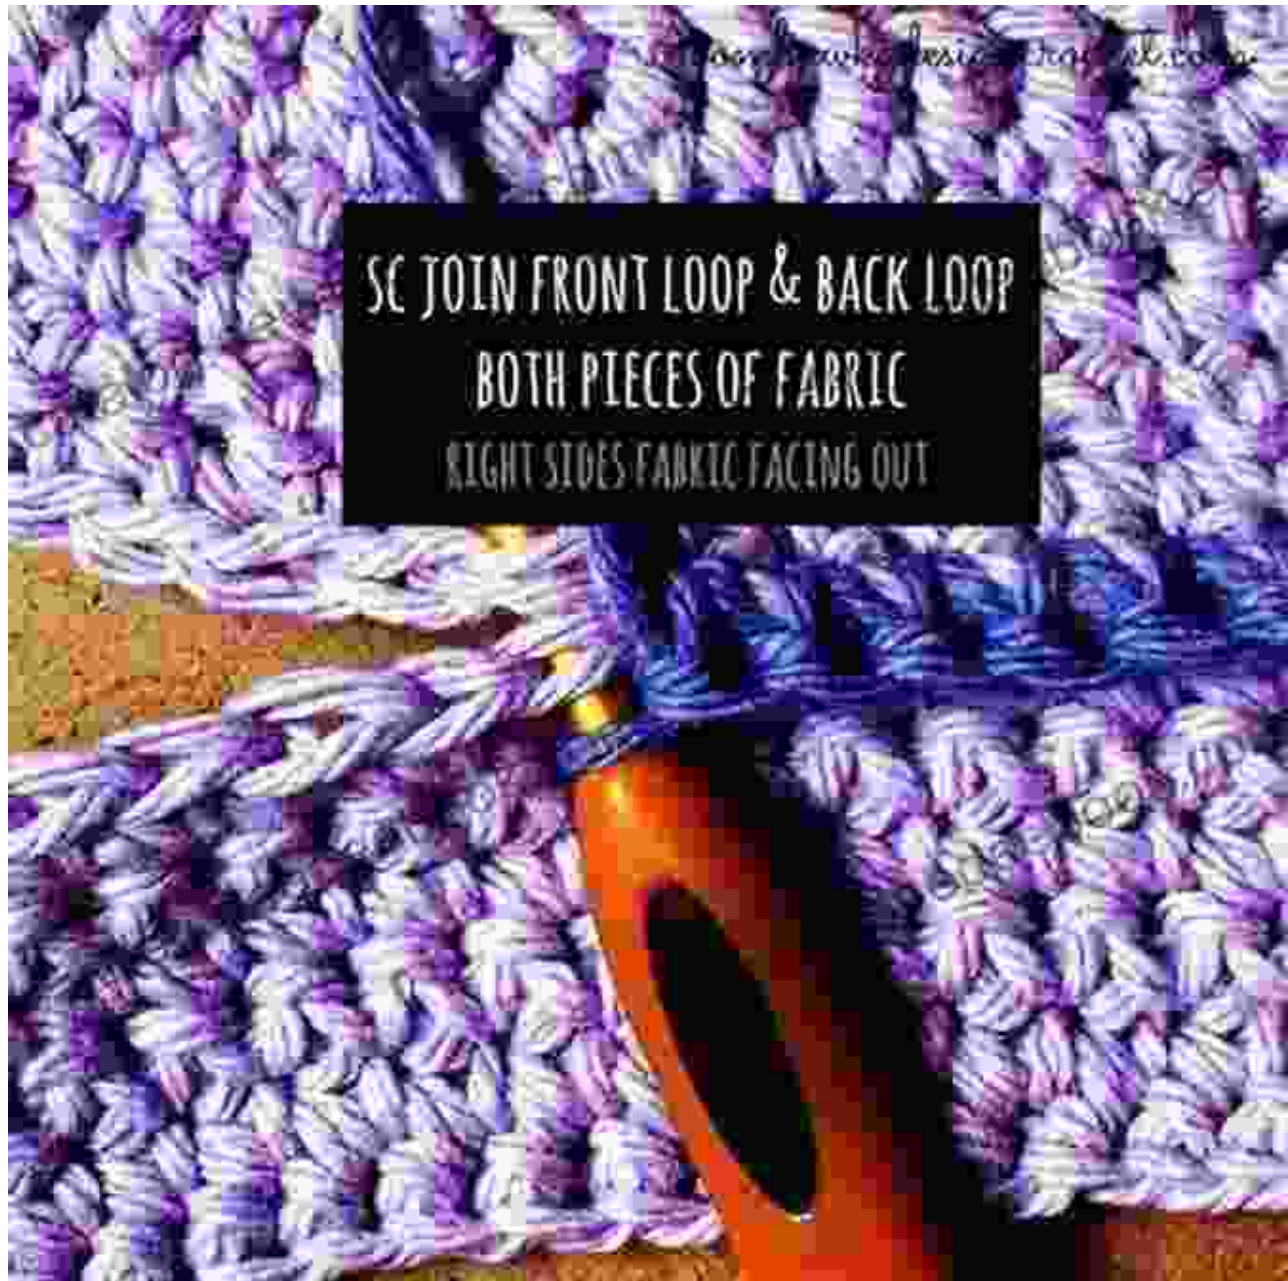

Part 2: Embellishing the Panels

1. Choose one of your yarn colors and single crochet around the outer edge of one of the panels, working evenly into each hole.
2. Change to the other yarn color and single crochet around the outer edge of the same panel, working evenly into the spaces between the stitches of the previous round.
3. Repeat Steps 1-2 on the other panel.

Part 3: Attaching the Panels

1. Place the two panels facing each other, with the embellished sides facing outward.
2. Single crochet around the entire outer edge of the panels, working two stitches into each corner hole.
3. Leave a small opening along one side for inserting the tissues.

Part 4: Finishing Touches

1. Using needle and thread, sew the opening closed.
2. Embellish the cover further with beads, sequins, or other decorative elements, if desired.

Congratulations on completing your exquisite double boutique tissue cover! This charming addition to your home décor not only provides a practical solution for storing tissues but also adds a touch of sophistication and elegance. With its intricate details and customizable embellishments, this tissue cover is sure to become a treasured piece in your living space.
