Key Changes

The New GCSE History OCR specification has undergone a number of key changes, including:

- * A new emphasis on historical enquiry and investigation
- * A greater focus on the development of historical skills
- * A more diverse range of topics and sources

These changes have been made in order to ensure that the specification is relevant to the needs of students in the 21st century.

Assessment Objectives

The New GCSE History OCR specification is assessed through two examination papers:

* Paper 1: Understanding the Modern World (1 hour 45 minutes) * Paper 2: Thematic Study and Historic Environment (1 hour 45 minutes)

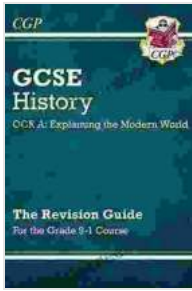

Paper 1 assesses students' understanding of key events and developments in the modern world, from 1750 to the present day. Paper 2 assesses students' ability to undertake historical enquiry and investigation, and it also tests their knowledge of a specific historical theme.

Tips for Success

Here are a few tips for success in the New GCSE History OCR specification:

* Start revising early and make sure you have a good understanding of the key concepts and ideas. * Practice answering exam-style questions under timed conditions. * Make use of a variety of resources, such as textbooks, websites, and past papers. * Attend all of your lessons and take notes. * Ask your teacher for help if you need it.

The New GCSE History OCR specification is a challenging but rewarding course of study. By following the tips above, you can increase your chances of success in the exam.
